

What's open this weekend?

Local people and visitors are returning to the city centre and hotels are reopening. There are lots of places to eat and relax now open, but many key attractions are still closed.

We have produced this first edition of Discovering Birmingham Experiences to help city centre visitors and local people know what is open to enjoy in Birmingham.

Welcome back – city centre:

	Now open – but you must pre-book from website
	Now open with two weekend tours. Private tours bookable throughout the week – see right hand column.
St Philip's Cathedral	Open for private prayer: Mon to Sat 10am - 2pm and Sun 1pm - 3pm.
St Chad's Cathedral	Open for Mass
	Open but must pre-book and get a timeslot for your visit.

Welcome back – out of city centre experiences:

Ackers Adventure	Book activities from website
Botanical Gardens	Open from 10 am
	Pre-booking essential
Castle Bromwich Gdns.	Wed to Sat. Pre booking advised

Discovering Birmingham Experiences will keep you informed as things reopen.

A more complete list of experiences, including those currently closed and their intentions can be found on the Discovering Birmingham website:

www.discoveringbirmingham.co.uk

City Centre Walks

Two public walking tours this weekend

Saturday 25 July 13.30 – 15:30

Start: Library of Birmingham

Sunday 26 July: 13:30 – 15:30

Start: Library of Birmingham

- Adults - £15, Child 6-16 years £7.50
- Pre-booking essential from website
- Covid-19 precautions in place with live audio system.

www.positivelybirmingham.co.uk

Weekday Private Walking Tours

Days and times to suit you from £100 for up to 5 people. Enquire at:

Email: info@positivelybirmingham.co.uk

Tel: 07973 379050

Subscribe to receive email version
Receive Discovering Birmingham
Experiences as soon as it is published:
subscribe@discoverinobirmingham.co.uk

- Discovering Birmingham Experiences is being distributed to city centre hotels and others involved in welcoming visitors to Birmingham. Do feed back to us on this first 'beta' edition of the magazine. The design team comes in next week to sort us out and help take it forward!
- The next edition will come out on Friday 31 July. If you would like to feature in the listings and editorial please contact us at Email: info@positivelybirmingham.co.uk, Mobile: 07973 379050.